Checklist for Withdrawing from all Courses Mid-Semester

Withdrawing from the University is defined as canceling all classes, completing other financial and administrative responsibilities, and ending participation in the University community. The following steps must be taken to complete the process and ensure your withdrawal addresses academic and financial responsibilities with the University, and to provide the most flexibility for your future educational options.

Academic Success Center 218-477-4318 (Flora Frick 154)

Meet with the Academic Success Center to discuss any alternatives to withdrawing and/or considerations before completely withdrawing from the University

The following are examples of things that may be discussed during the meeting:

- Have you spoke with your instructor regarding your situation. Is it possible to make up the work or take an Incomplete in the course?
- Are you able to pass some of your courses? Could you withdraw from some rather than all of your courses?
- Have you utilized campus resources such as tutoring to help improve your grade?
- There may be implications to your academic standing. Withdrawing from courses may result in an Academic Warning status or Academic Suspension.
- Staff will review how to withdraw on eServices.

When a student withdraws from all semester courses, federal regulations mandate the calculation of the amount a student is able to retain, made by Business Services, for the semester, if any, and any amount required to be repaid based on the number of days enrolled for the semester
